George F. Rodgers is shipping to the fair grounds, 80 tons of corn raised on his ten acre tract in the south east part of the city, to be put in silos. This corn will be fed to the stock on exhibition during the fair to demonstrate silage feeding. It is of an Oregon Dent variety of several generations' growth in Oregon. It ripens early and is adapted to this climate.

Just at present in the vicinity of Salem there is a great demand for laborers, not only for those who will go into the fields and work but among the various trades. During the slow period of the early spring and summer, many day laborers have been attracted by the offers of the mines in Montana and the uncertainty of securing regular work has caused mechanics to return east.

A musical entertainment will be given Monday evening at the First Christian church under the direction of Salem Parker of Los Angeles who has been conducting a course of music for the past week. Besides solos and chorus singing of those who have been under Mr. Parker's instruction, Mr. Parker who is considered a clever impersonator and will give several numbers.

In his address to the Cherrians last evening, I. L. Patterson president of the Polk county fair said that by actual count 720 automobiles crossed the bridge from Polk county into Salem one day last week and that on Sunday, the number was more than 900. And as Polk county contributed probably 25 per cent of the business of Salem, he thought there should be a closer feeling of friendship.

Work started this morning on the paving of a block of alley from Twelfth street east to the Mill race north of the Woolen mill. The laying of the pavement will begin next week. As soon as the Southern Pacific brings its tracks down to grade, paving will be done on a small strip on Twelfth street on the east side of the S. P. tracks from Ferry street south to the Woolen mill office. This strip is 173 feet long and about 12 feet wide.

The Foresters of America are planning for a big stag party to be given about the middle of October. Everything will be put on in the style of the western frontier days. The membership of the Foresters is about 100 and they are planning on adding materially to this number during the winter. To make the stag party worth while, a committee has been appointed consisting of F. J. Rosenberg, chairman; Geo. Schultz and John L. Conger, C. J. Beach chief ranger announces that it will be an open meeting for friends of the lodge.

Henry Clemmens, proprietor of Glen Gardens, of Newberg, paid a visit to the fair grounds this morning and engaged space for an elaborate display of flowers in the new pavilion for the coming state fair. His exhibit will cover a wide variety of flowering plants but he will make a special feature of asters and sweet peas, his specialty, and is making arrangements for putting in a highly attractive exhibit in the manufacturers division of the big show. This will be the first time that Mr. Clemmens will have shown at the state fair.

W. E. Zimmerman, district salesman for the National Cash Register company, arrived from Portland today and is engaged in setting up and putting the new cash register ticket selling machines into working condition for the opening of the state fair. These machines will not only facilitate the selling of tickets, both as to speed and accuracy, but will keep a complete set of books, registering every sale and keeping the fullfare receipts separate from the half fare receipts, so that a check may be made upon them at all times and will serve to eliminate the element of graft effectually from the selling end of the state fair gate receipts.

Hartman Bros. Co., jewelry store, State and Liberty streets is now one of the most artistically equipped jewelry stores in the northwest. After buying the John G. Barr Co. store and stock, they decided to remodel the interior to bring it up to the highest standard. The windows were rebuilt on modern lines with special care in the lighting, and floors of the windows raised to conform to those of city stores. The safe recently placed was so heavy that it could not be handled by any truck in the city and was brought to the store on the Oregon Electric tracks and placed after the

Is Your Child Handicapped in His or Her Physical Development by Defective Vision?

In New York City alone the school committee reported that 186,000 children have defective eyesight. In many cases the results were stupidity, backwardness or various nervous ailments.

You should make sure by a thorough examination at the hands of a competent optometrist, that your child is not among this vast army of little citizens who suffer from defective eyesight. Delays often result seriously.

We make these examinations by the most scientific, accurate methods. If your child does not need glasses we will tell you so frankly.
